How to Make a Game App - Create a smartphone game today!

What you'll need instead is something called a game engine, or a dedicated software for creating games. Unlike app makers, you need to install them on your computer, which leads us to the first item in our checklist: A computer: you will need to install the game engine on your PC or Mac. Note that some game engines are only PC or only Mac. They don't work on both.

Nothing fancy, no server side stuff involved, essentially each game is just a single .html (which includes javascript and css) and some .png and .jpg images. Now, this kinda works on mobile devices as well (android/iphone/ipad) by just surfing to the particular page, but I guess a dedicated app would work better / be more convenient on these devices.
